Bucks man held in fatal car crash

BENSALEM — A 37-year-old Huntington Valley, Pa., woman was killed at 1:37 a.m. yesterday when a man police claim was drunk smashed into her 1983 Oldsmobile on Street Road, police said.

Rachel Borden, the sole occupant of the Olds, was extricated from her car and pronounced dead at Warminster General Hospital at 2:20 a.m., police said.

The other driver, Michael S. Cross, 20, of the Nottingham section of Bensalem Township, was arrested and charged with homicide by auto, involuntary manslaughter and driving while intoxicated, a police spokeswoman said.

Cross, of the 3600 block of Windsor Drive, was held in the Bucks County jail in lieu of $100,000 bail yesterday, the spokeswoman said.

According to police, Cross was traveling east on Street Road near Rail Avenue when he allegedly drove into the westbound lane and into Ms. Borden's car.

Police requested anyone with information on the accident to contact them at (215) 639-3700.
